

Get to know Art of Cycling

Art of Cycling is a project that aims to foster joint initiatives of several organizations (Eco Logic from North Macedonia, Vuelta Sportegyesulet from Hungary, and Centro per lo sviluppo creativo Danilo Dolci from Italy) working in the field of sustainable transport and urban mobility, as well as sustainable community resilience related to the world pandemic.

The idea is that the participating organizations cooperate in the exchange of good practices and developing of innovative tools in difficult times, regarding the development of today's basic skills and competencies needed to assure safer, faster and healthier mode of transport in times of pandemic.

The project will be encouraging adults as its target group to learn skills, and be opened to new attitudes towards that can help them throughout their lives both in professional terms and in terms of their own lifestyle.

The project predicts both digital ways on how to stimulate adults to use their bicycles more as a resilience mechanism in relation to pandemic situation, but also to provide them with needed skills, and knowledge on how to maintain and take care of their bicycles. This will be realized by delivery of artistic workshops through which bicycles and maintenance will be promoted in a fun, participatory and interactive way.

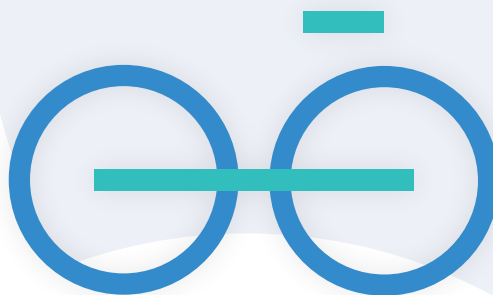

Art of Cycling as project would try to bring positives out of a crisis by providing adults with a learning opportunity that will empower and assist them (assembling and repairing bicycles) and work with artists to develop skills in a new medium (artistic bicycle painting as an approach for motivation to learn more about the bicycles and their functionalities).

The idea is to motivate people to join open air artistic workshops on which maintenance and repair courses/workshops will be delivered as well. The resulting products will be auctioned in events within the scope of the project and gathered in a publication in which maintenance courses/modules will be presented through the prism of art.

What we did until now and activities in progress...

After the start of the implementation of the project Art of Cycling, the project partner together decided the design of the logo of the project, during the transnational and coordination meetings among the partners. Also, for improving the promotion and visibility of the project, profile on the social media Facebook was created and will be managed by the implementing partners.

THE ART OF CYCLING

In addition to the activities, the project partners together are in a preparation phase of topics and activities of the PART A of the Intellectual output named:
Basic maintenance and repair tips and trick for adults.

What follows next?

In the next period we will complete the Part A - Basic maintenance and repair tips and trick for adults and we will develop 5 modules/courses including the narrative part and additional activities that will enhance the knowledge of the target groups. For now we will still be focused on online meetings with hope that in 2022 we will successfully have the partner meetings in person.
